NOTE: If there is a fee deficiency and there is no authorization to charge an account, additional fees are necessary to cover the additional time consumed in making up the original deficiency. If the maximum, six-month period has expired before the deficiency is noted and corrected, the application is held abandoned. In those instances where authorization to charge is included, processing delays are encountered in resuming the papers to the PTO Finance Branch in order to apply these charges prior to action on the cases. Authorization to charge the deposit account for any fee deficiency should be checked. See the Notice of April 7, 1986, 1065 O.G 31-33.

DETAILED ACTION

Location of Application

1. The location of the subject application has changed. The subject application is now located in Group 1630, Art Unit 1634, and has been assigned to Primary Examiner Bradley L. Sisson.

Priority

2. Acknowledgement is made of where applicant identifies several applications as being related to the subject application; see page 1, first full paragraph. Applicant needs to identify how these various applications are related to the subject application and to make the statement of claim to benefit of priority in a single sentence.
Appropriate correction is required.

Oath/Declaration

3. The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application-number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.
4. The oath or declaration is defective because:

The oath or declaration does not contain reference to applications for which a claim of priority is made (see page one of the specification).

Information Disclosure Statement

5. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Specification

6. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.
7. The incorporation of essential material in the specification by reference to a foreign application or patent, or to a publication is improper. Applicant is required to amend the disclosure to include the material incorporated by reference. The amendment must be accompanied by an affidavit or declaration executed by the applicant, or a practitioner representing the applicant, stating that the amendatory material consists of the same material incorporated by reference in the referencing application. See In re Hawkins, 486 F.2d 569, 179 USPQ 157 (CCPA 1973); In re Hawkins, 486 F.2d 579, 179 USPQ 163 (CCPA 1973); and In re Hawkins, 486 F.2d 577, 179 USPQ 167 (CCPA 1973).

8. The attempt to incorporate subject matter into this application by reference to a provisional and to a non-provisional US patent is improper because these applications are being relied upon for enablement of applicant's preferred embodiment. See page 19, lines 15-18.

Sequence Rules Compliance

9. This application contains sequence disclosures that are encompassed by the definitions for nucleotide and/or amino acid sequences set forth in 37 CFR 1.821(a)(1) and (a)(2). However, this application fails to comply with the requirements of 37 CFR 1.821 through 1.825 for the reason(s) set forth below or on the attached Notice To Comply With Requirements For Patent Applications Containing Nucleotide Sequence And/Or Amino Acid Sequence Disclosures. See pages 27-29, and 31.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

10. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

11. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. As presently worded, the claims are drawn to a method whereby cDNA is produced. Upon review of the disclosure it is noted that the specification seeks to incorporate by reference disclosures in non-published US Patent Applications wherein these disclosures are of a preferred embodiment. As indicated above, applicant cannot incorporate by reference essential materials, which, as here, is deemed by applicant to be representative of their preferred embodiment. While applicant can incorporate by reference essential subject matter when it is found in a published US Patent, such latitude is not accorded when the document is a non-published application, be it from the US or otherwise.

12. Claims 6 and 7 are not enabled by the disclosure whereby any and all RNA in a cell is retained in a useful length when the cell is simply allowed to die and is dried, as is encompassed by the claims. It is well known that RNA is highly sensitive to degradation yet the claimed method places no limitation on the manner in which the cell, and its RNA, be it tRNA, mRNA, rRNA or mitochondrial RNA is preserved ad infinitum, without any precautions.

13. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

14. Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

15. Claim 7 contains the trademark/trade name FTA. Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe a type of paper and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite. Claim 6, from which claim 7 depends, is similarly rejected as an independent claim encompasses all of the limitations of the claims that depend therefrom.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

16. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

17. The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

18. Claims 1, 2, and 4 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hornes (US Patent 5,759,820).

19. Hornes et al., columns 6-8, disclose binding of mRNA to a solid support and then subjecting the isolated/immobilized mRNA to a reverse transcriptase so to produce a corresponding cDNA. The aspect of synthesizing a double-stranded cDNA is also disclosed therein.

Art Unit: 1634

20. These showings meet a limitation of claims 1, 2, and 4.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

21. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by a desert highway road kill.

As presently worded, all that is required for preservation of RNA in a cell is tht the cell be contacted with a solid support and allowed to dry. Such limitations are readily achieved by the untimely demise of fauna on desert highways where they undoubtedly come into contact with a solid support and are allowed to dry, as is the case where insects are thinly and rapidly applied to a solid surface and are quickly brought to a desiccated state by the passing of a high rate of air flow over their remains.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

22. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pharmacia Biotech Catalog (1994).

23. Pharmacia Biotech Catalog (1994), page 119, discloses for sale spin columns that are packed with oligo(dT)-cellulose and that these solid supports are used in the isolation of mRNA, and its subsequence use in the synthesis of cDNA and in polymerase chain reaction; a type of nucleic acid amplification assay.

24. While the catalog does not speak explicitly of the cDNA being double-stranded, such is considered an inherent property in view of the cDNA being used on a PCR assay which is predicated upon the use of primer pairs where one primer is directed to each strand of a double-stranded template (cDNA).

Conclusion
